Petition to remove large format advertising

Rustenburg – Cheryl Phillips, Rustenburg ward 16 councillor, launched a petition to remove large format advertising in Rustenburg's residential areas. She will then bring the petition results to Cllr. Mpho Khu-nou, executive mayor of Rustenburg, the municipal manager and the director for public safety.

I have been asked by numerous residents to start a petition to have all the large format adverts removed from our residential areas. If you live in Rustenburg, please sign the petition and share it with your friends who live in Rustenburg. I also have a paper petition that can be hand signed. If you would like one to fill in, please inbox your address and telephone number to me or contact me on 0833214204

Letter to the Editor

I signed my name to the petition, and although everyone's comments are confidential and not available to read, I want to share my comment in the section-block of the petition.

Especially in the advertising industry, they have a responsibility to wisely choose what they publically display.

We all have a right to freedom of expression – but we should still be held accountable for our words or pictures..

In this petition case, the advertiser is responsible for any information he/she publically showcases. You have to take into consideration that impressionable young minds are also exposed to this. Rustenburg is littered with advertising signs, legal and illegal – but putting up a board of this size catches the eye.

The items advertised here is not suited for professional or business conversation – not to mention for the public (or kids!!) at all. It's as offensive as a one-hour abortion clinic sign.

I do not wish this business any harm, but they should find the applicable channels to advertise their products. They chose their industry and should adapt to their market.

This sign stands as a token to the blatant disregard to other people's feelings and standards. If we allow it to stand, we are saying that it is ok for our kids to look at it on a daily basis.

It is not!
