INNOCENT RESIDENTS WOUNDED IN CIT CROSSFIRE

Rustenburg – A violent cash-in-transit (CIT) heist erupted on the corner of Beneden Street (R510) and Ridder Street on Monday, 10 March 2025, leaving two innocent community members wounded inside their own home. North West Hawks spokesperson, warrant officer Amogelang Malwetse, confirmed that a case of robbery and cash-in-transit heist is under investigation. "We cannot divulge any more information at this stage," he stated.

A SCENE OF DEVASTATION

The attack began with a deafening explosion, followed by a hailstorm of bullets. The shootout between the armed robbers and the security personnel was so intense that stray bullets struck two residents, Johannes and Christelle Lues, inside their home. A Mercedes-Benz, suspected to be one of the criminals' vehicles, was torched near the cash van, likely to destroy evidence such as DNA and fingerprints. Amid the chaos, some community members attempted to loot the scattered cash while security forces, SAPS, and emergency services worked to contain the situation.

A member of the Rustenburg Crime Combating Forum, who was present at the scene, described the ordeal: "The suspects were shooting at the police and security personnel. I also witnessed community members looting money."

RESIDENTS CAUGHT IN THE CROSSFIRE

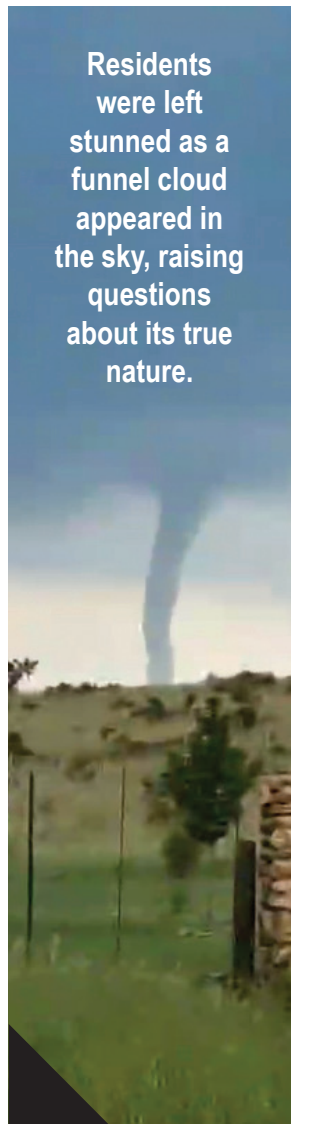

Among the victims were Johannes and Christelle Lues, longtime residents of Beneden Street. Christelle recounted the terrifying moment when her husband, bleeding from a gunshot wound, turned to her and said, "Love, I'm not going to make it." Only after calling for help did she realize that she, too, had been shot. "Blood was everywhere," she described. With emergency services delayed, their son-in-law rushed them to Peglerae Hospital. They are currently in stable condition at Ferncrest Hospital, awaiting further medical procedures. Johannes suffered a shattered shoulder, while Christelle's condition remains critical due to a bullet lodged near a major artery between her lungs.

The shattered window of the Lues residence — a silent witness to the terrifying CIT heist that left two residents injured in their own home.

Chaos and destruction — the CIT heist scene where bullets flew, a car was set alight, and panicked community members scrambled for cover as looters grabbed cash. Screams filled the air as people tried to escape the hail of gunfire.

Residents were left stunned as a funnel cloud appeared in the sky, raising questions about its true nature.

FAMILY LOSES EVERYTHING IN DEVASTATING FIRE

Rustenburg – A devastating fire ripped through a family home in Soetdoring Avenue in Protea Park on Wednesday, 12 March 2025, leaving a husband, wife, and their two children with nothing but the clothes on their backs. The Rustenburg Fire Brigade responded swiftly, preventing further destruction and ensuring no injuries were reported. However, the family's home and belongings were completely lost to the flames. While the cause of the fire remains under investigation, the community is already rallying to support the affected family.

Was this a tornado?

Boons/ Rustenburg – A strange sight in the skies above Boons on Monday, 10 March 2025, had residents buzzing with shock and curiosity. At around 14:30, local Bonsmara cattle farmer Hans Pieterse spotted a funnel cloud while moving cattle on his farm. At first, he barely noticed it — until photos and videos started flooding his community WhatsApp group. His wife, Jessica Pieterse, who was at work in Rustenburg, later posted the video on Storm Report SA. "Everyone was very shocked to see the funnel, which eventually had two tails. It was visible as far as Olifantsnek and seemed to form near Magaliesburg," she said.

Another resident, Tertia van der Westhuizen, described the unusual weather shift. "The day started warm, then turned overcast, then sunny again. Suddenly, it darkened, and I saw deep blue clouds over Boons. A tornado-like formation stretched longer and longer towards the ground, with a smaller one forming nearby. After about 10 minutes, it started disappearing, and the clouds vanished."

No official confirmation has been made about whether the funnel cloud was indeed a tornado or if it touched down. Platinum Weekly has reached out to the South African Weather Services for clarification and is awaiting a response. Was this a freak weather event or a sign of climate change?

Residents were left stunned as a funnel cloud appeared in the sky, raising questions about its true nature.

SECOND-FLOOR FLAT CATCHES FIRE

Rustenburg – A fire broke out in a second-floor apartment at a block of flats on the corner of Kruis and Kerk Street, Rustenburg, on Friday 7 March 2025. The building manager confirmed that only one tenant resides in the unit. "The cause of the fire is unknown at this stage," he said. Fortunately, no injuries were reported. The Rustenburg Fire Brigade swiftly responded, bringing the blaze under control before it could spread to other units. Platinum Weekly has reached out to the Fire Brigade for further comment and is awaiting a response.

Firefighters in action! The Rustenburg Fire Brigade tackled the flames in a second-floor apartment, preventing further damage.

Phenyo Dantjie
Engineering Graduate

This isn't a story, it's a journey.

I'm Phenyo Dantjie, a 24-year-old engineering graduate from Robega, North West, working at Glencore's Boshoeck Smelter, where I'm actively shaping my future.

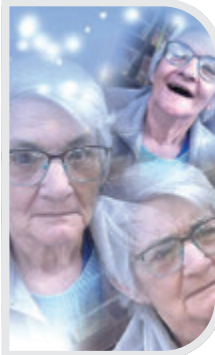

Growing up, I was fascinated by how things work and dreamed of a career in engineering. That dream crystallised in 2018 when Glencore awarded me a bursary to study Mechatronics Engineering at the University of Cape Town.

The role of junior engineer within Glencore's Professionals in Training programme has been enriching; no two days are the same. I'm working on projects that challenge me, from finding solutions to day-to-day problems to implementing a machine learning project to enhance our efficiency in maintaining equipment.

Glencore's support goes beyond technical training. I've gained soft skills too. My mentors and colleagues encourage me to think outside the box and provide guidance when I need it, allowing me autonomy as I grow and learn.

I'm determined to inspire young people to pursue STEM careers and follow their dreams, just as I am doing. I'm excited to see where my journey takes me.

Progress. Together.

SHOULD WE KNOW? The Sex Offenders Register Debate Heats Up...

South Africans are divided over the recent decision by the Minister of Justice and Constitutional Development, Hon. Mmamoloko Kubayi MP, to halt the publication of the National Register for Sex Offenders (NRSO). While the Information Regulator (Regulator) has welcomed this move, many law-abiding citizens are left questioning whether public safety should outweigh privacy laws.

The Department of Justice and Constitutional Development (DoJ&CD) announced on 1 March 2025 that the decision was made after considering confidentiality and disclosure provisions within the Sexual Offences and Related Matters Act. The Regulator fully supports this, emphasising that while gender-based violence and sexual crimes are a serious concern in South Africa, legal processes must be followed to ensure actions taken remain within the law.

A Question of Privacy vs. Public Safety
The NRSO was designed to protect vulnerable individuals — particularly children and people with disabilities — by restricting convicted sex offenders from working in environments where they could pose a threat. However, it was never meant to be a publicly accessible list. The Regulator raised concerns about how the DoJ&CD would ensure compliance with the Protection of Personal Information Act (POPIA) if the NRSO were to be made public. Under POPIA, individuals' personal data — no matter how controversial — must be processed lawfully. The Regulator is now preparing a submission for the Minister, outlining what must be addressed to align the publication of the NRSO with the law.

A Community in Debate

Many South Africans believe that making the register public is a necessary step in safeguarding communities. "We have a right to know if a convicted sex offender lives next door or teaches at our children's school," argues a concerned parent. Others caution that publicising the list could lead to vigilantism, wrongful targeting, or even infringe on offenders' rights after they have served their sentences.

With tensions high and safety concerns mounting, the debate rages on. Should the public have access to this information? Or does the law's protection of privacy extend even to those convicted of the most heinous crimes? What do you think?

SASSA official busted for corruption

GREEDY HANDS CAUGHT IN THE COOKIE JAR

Mogwase — A South African Social Security Agency (SASSA) grant administrator has landed in hot water after allegedly demanding a bribe from an elderly pension applicant.

Boipelo Eugenia Ramafoko (42) was arrested by the Hawks' Serious Corruption Investigation team on Thursday, 6 March 2025, following a sting operation. She appeared before the Mogwase Magistrates' Court on Friday, 7 March 2025, facing charges of corruption. Ramafoko was released on R1,500 bail, and the case has been postponed to 5 May 2025 for further investigation.

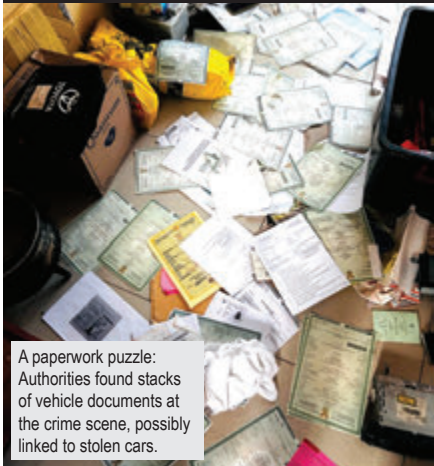

According to Hawks spokesperson, warrant officer Amogelang Malwetse, the case dates back to December 2024 when a 63-year-old pensioner applied for his old age grant at the SASSA office in Mogwase. It is alleged that Ramafoko demanded R3,000 before processing his application. When the pensioner explained he could not afford the amount, she reportedly insisted he pay her as soon as his first grant payout was received in February 2025.

True to her demand, the suspect allegedly pressured the pensioner to hand over the money once the grant was deposited into his bank account. The desperate victim sent his daughter to withdraw R2,000 and deliver it to Ramafoko. However, the suspect was allegedly dissatisfied and demanded the remaining R1,000, which was to be paid in early March.

Unbeknownst to her, the Hawks had already caught wind of the scheme. Acting swiftly, investigators set up a sting operation, leading to Ramafoko's arrest as soon as she accepted the money.

Authorities are urging the public to report any suspected corruption within government institutions.

Rustenburg — A high-stakes police operation in Tlhabane has led to the discovery of a sophisticated chop shop, resulting in the arrest of two suspects and the recovery of stolen vehicles and car parts worth over R1.3 million.

On Friday, 7 March 2025, a multidisciplinary task force, including the Provincial Investigation Unit, Rustenburg Tactical Response Team (TRT), Public Order Police (POP), Flying Squad, and Bojanala Crime Intelligence, conducted a targeted raid that uncovered two stolen vehicles, various vehicle parts, number plates, and registration documents. Among the recovered vehicles was a Volkswagen Crafter (22-seater) reported stolen in Makapanstad in November 2024 and a Hyundai Atos stolen in Boksburg in June 2024. Authorities also found a trove of vehicle components, including tyres, windows, car doors, and other spare parts.

The two arrested suspects, aged 42 and 18, appeared in the Bafokeng Magistrates' Court in Tlhabane on Monday, 10 March 2025, facing charges of possession of suspected stolen motor vehicles.

Acting provincial police commissioner of North West, major general Patrick Asaneng, commended the joint effort of all police units involved, emphasising the importance of interdepartmental cooperation in tackling vehicle theft and organized crime.

Residents are encouraged to report suspicious activities related to vehicle theft to local authorities.

Our Ward Matters spruces up Rustenburg SPCA

From left: Mfundo Ntlangano, Emanuel Makina, Our Ward Matters founder André van Dyk, Labious Mokgathe, and DA Ward 17 councillor Tanya Rothman joined forces to clean up the SPCA.

Rustenburg – Community spirit was in full force on Tuesday, 18 February 2025, as Our Ward Matters took the initiative to clean and tidy up the Rustenburg SPCA. With dedication and teamwork, volunteers worked tirelessly to clear rubbish, remove broken items, and improve the overall environment for the animals and staff. The Rustenburg Local Municipality Waste Department provided much-needed skips, ensuring that all debris was properly disposed of. Our Ward Matters founder, André van Dyk, expressed his gratitude to the municipality's Waste Department for their continuous support. "They always assist us with skips, and we truly appreciate their help in keeping our communities clean." "With the support of Councillor Tanya Rothman, who consistently coordinates with the RLM Waste Department to provide skips for our large-scale clean-ups, our efforts become a reality." The cleanup didn't stop there. The very next day, Wednesday, 19 February 2025, Our Ward Matters returned to the SPCA to finish the job by cutting the overgrown grass around the premises. Get Involved! The community is encouraged to support this ongoing initiative. For more information or to contribute, contact André van Dyk on 076 057 1669 or email vandykandre302@gmail.com.

PROVERBS 2

The Value of Wisdom
 2 My son, if you receive my words, And treasure my commands within you, 2 So that you incline your ear to wisdom, And apply your heart to understanding; 3 Yes, if you cry out for discernment, And lift up your voice for understanding, 4 If you seek her as silver, And search for her as for hidden treasures; 5 Then you will understand the fear of the Lord, And find the knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord gives wisdom; From His mouth come knowledge and understanding; 7 He stores up sound wisdom for the upright; He is a shield to those who walk uprightly; 8 He guards the paths of justice, And preserves the way of His saints. 9 Then you will understand righteousness and justice, Equity and every good path.

HAVE YOUR SAY

Are you addicted to your cellphone?

Do you check your phone first thing in the morning? Feel anxious without it? Studies show excessive screen time affects focus, sleep, and real-life connections. Share your thoughts — are we too glued to our screens?

"Yes, it's not so much the phone itself, but rather the online books I read on it. I seize every spare moment to read and feel frustrated when I don't get the chance. However, when my phone isn't available, I simply revisit my collection of hardcopy books at home. I'd say that's a healthy obsession!" Marina Marais, Rustenburg

"Yes, I am addicted to my cellphone and spend a lot of time on my screen. My phone keeps me entertained, but it also helps me save time, energy, and money by handling important tasks digitally — like job hunting and submitting applications — rather than doing them in person." Diamond Moje, Rustenburg

Did you know?

Before ketchup became a burger's best friend, it was once sold as medicine! In the 1830s, American physician Dr. John Cook Bennett promoted tomato-based ketchup as a cure for indigestion, diarrhoea, and even jaundice. He claimed tomatoes had powerful health benefits and even turned ketchup into pill form. The "miracle cure" gained popularity — until sceptics exposed the lack of scientific proof. By the mid-19th century, ketchup had lost its medicinal status but gained fame as a beloved condiment. So next time you squeeze that bottle, remember — it was once a doctor's prescription!
